Congratulations on your acceptance to the Master’s Bioengineering program at Northeastern University’s Graduate School of Engineering!

As an incoming Fall 2021 student, there are some steps that you need to take before the Fall semester starts. Please read this document thoroughly as it contains helpful information and can answer many of your questions before you start your first semester in your Master’s program.

Step 1: Confirm your enrollment.
You will not be able to register for classes (information below) until you confirm enrollment. You can confirm your enrollment by logging into your application account and paying the enrollment deposit. If you have any questions regarding this process, please reach out to the Graduate Admissions team. You may contact them at coe-gradadmissions@northeastern.edu.

Step 2: Know your faculty advisor and administrative contacts.
Shiaoming Shi, PhD Assistant Teaching Professor and M.S. Program Administrator
Esther Cohen, Business Manager
Lisa Cavallaro, Academic Coordinator

Step 3: Complete your course registration.

Frequently Asked Questions

How do I get a myNortheastern account?
If you have not set up your myNortheastern account, please follow the instructions here.

How do I register?
Please enter the CRN (Course Reference Number) numbers listed above directly into your registration worksheet. Some sections may not be available to view online as they are reserved for first-term students only. You will not be able to register for these classes using the search classes feature and MUST enter the CRNs directly. If you need help navigating to your registration worksheet on your myNortheastern account please watch the following webinar for instructions on how to register using your myNortheastern account: General Registration Instructions

Am I eligible for co-op?
You are not eligible for co-op the first two semesters of your program, during which your focus will be strictly academic. Please refer to the Coop website for more information on eligibility. During your last semester of study (in your second year), you must be fully on campus as a full-time student, even if you are eligible to be on co-op. According to government rules and regulations, co-op is an educational opportunity to strengthen your engineering skills—not a job pursuit.

Will I get a bill from registering?
Yes, your first e-bill is generated when you register for your courses. You will receive an e-bill from the University with instructions on how to pay the e-bill. If you have questions about payment, please contact the Student Financial Services office directly: http://www.northeastern.edu/financialaid/contact/.

For more information about beginning your program at Northeastern University, please read your acceptance letter in full.

What if I have another question that is not answered here?
Please contact Lisa Cavallaro at l.cavallaro@northeastern.edu or save any additional questions for the Graduate School of Engineering General Orientation and/or BioE Program Orientation on September 2nd.

We look forward to welcoming you to your program!

Sincerely,
